I, Peter & Fin run for Christianity ~~and~~ ^{claim} a Conanimabil always and for Christ our Lord and ~~the~~ ^{the} King of Animalzania. Communism is wrong really, wrong. I mean it then they kill precious, tiny, and cute animals. They are tyrants, tyrants, they rule for only power and kill a crab creuly and worse than you can think. If you were in a Communist country you would know what I mean.

I God has blessed us very

I am ~~the~~ ~~humble~~, Iceburg Rose, who is so grateful to be in your presence today.

I have to speak about this war.
We are fighting this war, why, because one we need to defend our country from Communism and destroy it too.
We need not let Communism take over any countries. Communism takes away all of the God given rights we have.

To complete this war we must completely annihilate ~~thialate~~ the French. Not kill every one of them, no, but destroy its Communist government. We mustn't let any of ~~our~~ our leaders be Communist. Communism is one's worst nightmare. It gives me creeps to hear what they do to prisoners and babies! Babies!
They kill little helpless unborn born animals. Murder! Murder! Murder is all they do. We ~~need~~ To complete this is not to give up. We must stop this!

A Poet and Didn't Know it

Poet's
Corner

"Flowers" "Mountains" -Courtney

Flowers covered, Mountains,
With dewy diamonds, Like to soldiers on the march,
Like red fire, Circle the towns and cities.
Or calm yellow, Misty topped,
Down to the roots, And laden in snow.
Beauty is flourishing in it. Purple with the morning and evening light.

-Courtney. Rrough peaks of towering stone,
Moss covered stones, and firs, and plants.
Where cool air lives,
Up, up, in the mountains.

"In My Savior's Arm"

In my Savior's arm, I stay, Safe from every wave.
In my Redeemer's heart, I'll stay, For His love endures
In my ~~sa~~ Savior's arm, I'll stand, For He is my shield.
In ~~At~~ my Redeemer's heart, Secure I stand, ~~Through all the way.~~

-Courtney Riojas

Story Corner

By Courtney Riojas Moral - Don't be vain.

There once was a little cat named Robert Lockey.

He had a nice golden sleek coat and sky blue eyes. His pur was sweet and homey. He had 14 brothers and sisters. His mother one day sent him off to school with his brothers. She said, "Now, Robert, do not be vain over your coat. You ought not."

He trotted off with his ^{lunch} pail and books and came to school.

He was 10 minutes early so he hid behind a bush and put oil on his fur with his claws. He shined himself till his fur was soft, and sleek, and shiny. He entered the building slowly, with his tail curved up, and his head erect. The master took one glance at him and saw his vanity. He assigned him to sit with Arnold Sulky a tomcat who was meek and didn't like Robert's vanity.

Robert didn't play at recess, he sat cleaning himself in a pond of sunshine. The sun reflected off of him making him unbearable to see. This attracted a red fox. "You look so elegant. looking. Do arch your ~~neat~~ neck and close your eyes?" The cat did, but just as he did the fox sunk his teeth into Robert's throat. And that is why you ought not be vain.

Thank

You
