The President's Little Speech

My dear friends,

I know that we celebrate St. Patrick's Day by pinching people, wearing green and saying we are Irish. Some of you might know what actually happened, but to those who don't know; let me tell you. A person named Patrick went to Ireland to give the Gospel to the Irish. To describe the Trinity, he used the clover because it had three leaves like the Trinity has three persons but is still one God. Thank God for another month to serve Him. God bless you.

Sincerely,

President Peter Fir

“Campaigns Begin”

The time to decide who is going to be the next President of Pearl County has come. All loyal Animalzaniums are now expecting courageous statesmen to step up to the platform and decide that they will serve their county men!

The courageous statesmen who desire to serve their county men must present their applications to the Hall either by mail, calling, or in person. The only requirements to be President are (1) a servant's heart, (2) a willingness to write speeches for the newspaper during the campaigning and writing monthly speeches for “The President's Little Speech” corner in the newspaper if they succeed in being President, and (3) is that you are required to be a member of Animalzania to apply for the campaign. Anyone who is a member will not be denied entrance into the campaign. You have until August to join into the campaign because in August we are having the Primaries to decide who is actually running. Also as a final note, the current President cannot run so that means that Mr. Fir is not allowed into the campaign.

If you are the courageous statesman, then you can sign up right now. Just cut out the piece of paper at the bottom and send it in to us.

May 31st is the due date for the first speech.

We appreciate it: _____

age: _____

Are you a member of Animalzania? Yes No

Your animal's name: _____

Its party: Conanimaltive Animaliberal

Are you willing to:

- (1) write a speech for the dates that will be announced for each month during the campaign,
- (2) write a speech (if you become President) each month,
- (3) and pay attention to the newspaper's instructions on when to send in a speech, etc.

If you agree, write 'yes': _____

Send this to: 2315 Sequoia St., Selma, CA 93662 or you can call at: 559-891-1823. If you have any questions please let us know. We would be happy to help you.

“Iceburg Motor Company”

He is already churning out car after car from his factories for cheap prices and is already in competition with Necko Gecko El Geckie (Mr. Riojas). “Mr. Fir Vetoes Bill”

On March 10th, Mr. Fir vetoed the Bill that the Animaliberals presented in February. Mr. Fir's reasons for vetoing the Bill are the following: first of all, he believes that the Animaliberals are wanting to raise taxes to support spending bills which they are possibly planning; secondly, he thinks that since Mr. Rose has found a way to build an inexpensive car then we should not ban cars which offer faster transportation than a horse-drawn buggy; thirdly, he believes that the government should not be giving money to the poor who can get help from families, churches, and charities. Most people, except animaliberals, are exceedingly happy that Mr. Fir vetoed the Bill.

Currently, it is thought that the Animaliberals are frantic to smear Mr. Fir's reputation (and also the conanimaltive party) so that they can win in this year's election. That is, of course, an opinion of most Animals in Pearl County.

On March 20th, Mark Tyler was caught and put on trial on the 23rd. He was convicted of the murder and robbery of Mr. Jakelawer which occurred in February. He was hung on the 24th.

Title: “The Paper and the Garden”

Moral: Work hard. Don't be lazy and quick to leave the work which you must complete to go and do something you wish to go.

The girl sighed wistfully as she looked out the window which held a glorious view of the garden. Outside, her brother and younger sister were playing ball. She wished that she could go outside and join them, but she couldn't. She turned bitterly from the window and sat frowning down upon the papers that lay on her desk. She had to complete her research paper, but, Oh, how she wished to go outside.

She took up her pen and began to write. She paused every now and then to see what her brother and sister were doing, but she still wrote on.

“I do believe that I'll be done with this when the sun has set, and then I can't go out and play in the garden,” she thought gloomily as she worked. “It's not fair.”

She hastily wiped a tear from her nose and began writing again. “I have to get this thing finished by tomorrow for my teacher, but—,” she paused, “I ought to do it. It doesn't matter if I am unable to play outside today. Tomorrow I can. Anyways, if I stop gazing out the window and devoted my entire mind to my work then I might be able to play outside.” She smiled and began to work.

An hour later, the girl placed the completed paper in her backpack and found that the sun had not set and that she could go outside.
